- CAREER SKILLS
- TRANSITION
- SUCCESS

The PAES Lab will transform a classroom into a simulated work environment where individuals will learn:

- Work-related problem solving skills
- Proper work behavior by developing soft skills
- Knowledge of job skills and gain insight into real work settings
- Their learning and training styles for future employment

PAES is used to help middle and high school individuals, young adults, and older adult populations develop transition career skills to become independent, working citizens.
